Celebrating the 70th Anniversary of the Nutley Historical Society

Tuesday, September 15th at 7:00 p.m.

Nutley Museum Director John Simko will remember the society's beginnings and let people know about some current and future activities of the organization. Mr. Simko will provide a teaser or two about "A History of Nutley in Two Dozen Objects," a show that opens at the museum for two weeks this fall. He will discuss a forgotten Indian ledger book discovered in the society's archives, share some important recent additions to the museum's collections, and unveil a significant art project involving the historical society and Nutley schools.
