NUTLEY HISTORY SPOTLIGHT

ANTHONY BUCCINO BOOK TALK & SIGNING
THURSDAY, MARCH 14 AT 7 PM

Anthony Buccino has just released a new volume in his series Nutley Notables: The Men and Women Who Have Made a Memorable Impact on our Hometown Nutley, New Jersey. He will be reading some excerpts at the Library.

Volume Two co-mingles the people with the history of Nutley, and you are bound to discover a few surprises. This volume pays a lot of attention to the many women who volunteered their time and talents to make Nutley a great hometown as well as highlighting major league sports talents who lived in town and left pleasurable memories with children and adults.

Books will be available for purchase and signing for $20.

NUTLEY’S LA MONTE PAPER FACTORY
THURSDAY, APRIL 11 AT 7 PM

Join Nutley historians David Wilson and Eric Faeder for an interesting program on The La Monte Safety Paper Factory from its beginnings in 1871 through the final days at the plant in 1969. More than 50 pictures of the staff and facility will be featured, some that have never been seen in public. Memorabilia such as payroll checks, paper samples and vintage advertising will be displayed. La Monte was one of the top three employers in Nutley, and a company that changed the world of banking with one of the most underrated inventions of all time.
