

THE NUTLEY PUBLIC LIBRARY HOMEBOUND DELIVERY SERVICE

The Nutley Public Library provides a town-wide service that delivers your favorite books directly to your home – and it's absolutely free!

Nutley town residents who are physically unable to travel to the Nutley Public Library can receive library books at their homes. The Nutley Public Library's Homebound Books-by-Library Volunteers service is free of charge to patrons who cannot reach to the Library due to illness, age or disability.

To register, qualified participants need to fill out an application and mail it to the Library. It's that easy.

Requested books will be delivered at the patron's home by Library volunteer. For more information on the Homebound Books-by-Library Volunteers service, telephone 973-667-0405, ext. 2604 or visit our library's home page at <http://nutley.bccls.org>

Kiran B Patel
Supervising Librarian
December 30, 2010

Homebound Books-by-Library Volunteers Application

Check Areas of Interest to you:

- General Fiction
- Best Sellers
- Mysteries
- Adventures/Suspense
- Historical Novels
- Romance
- Westerns
- Science Fiction
- Humor
- Religion
- Politics
- Gardening
- Art
- Sports
- True Adventure
- Travel
- Biographies

Specific books or authors _____

Are paperback books acceptable? Yes
No

Do you require large print books? Yes
No

Name _____ Telephone _____

Address _____

I am not able to come to the Library because _____

Signature: _____

Library card Number _____

Mail to:
The Nutley Public Library
93 Booth Drive
Nutley, New Jersey 07110
973-667-0405
<http://nutley.bccls.org>